[From the Memphis Public Ledger.] Armed Negroes March into Columbus and Demand Bread.

An affair has culminated at Columbus, Misissippi, which seems the beginning of the end. The country around having been first exhausted by stealth and robbery, an organized and armed band of negro marauders has marched into the city and demanded bread! A company of United States regulars has dispersed them and protected the citizens for the ime. But what of that, and what next? Is it possible for the United States troops to lowing card from Mr. R: keep down three hundred thousand vagrant and starving negroes? A hundred thous and men dispersed to the best possible advantage for that purpose will prove wholly insufficient. One of three things must be done speedilyeither the whites must abandon the country, or the negroes be driven out of it, or efficien vagrant laws must be enacted and enforced and the labor of the blacks compelled. There is no time to lose. Men that will not work and must eat, will fight for bread; and i white men have it, they must fight to defend it. If prompt measures are not taken, a war of races is no myth, but an inevitable reality, which is upon us. We have repeatedly called attention to these facts : and we trust the warning will not be without its instant effect to stir the Northern mind and induce the President to place the South under military rule at once. Co lumbus is hardly an exception. Outlawry is universally triumphant all over our States, and we are without a Republican Govern ment in every one of them. We subjoin the following summary from the Avalanche: " For some time a great deal of dissatisfac tion has existed among the freedmen in the neighborhood of Columbus, Miss. The sacred editice was nearly filled, the ladies as usual on such occasions, being represented in strong force. A detail of police under Sergeant Folk was present, to assist the sexton in carrying out the arrangements for the occasion. After the ceremonies of the mass were over, which were of a mos impressive character, accompanied as they were by vocal and instrumental music of a high order, and after a short but appropriate exhortation by the celebrated Father Maon account of a want of such information, as may guire, the parties were made man and wife, the bride being given away by her brother, M. J. Sullivan. The bridegroom was sus tained on the trying occasion by two of his "best friends," and the bride by an equal number of bridesmaids. After leaving the church, about one o'clock, the wedding party, consisting of about forty, retired to the hospitable mansion of Mrs. Sullivan, the bride's mother, in Dean street, where some hours lations of the charlatan, by informing them what were pleasantly spent in discussing the merits of dejeuner a la fourchette and its sparkling accompaniments, when the happy pair started for Philadelphia on their we'dding tour, bearing along with them the good wishes of a host of friends."

Report of the Board of Commissioners of Roads and Bridges FOR EDGEFIELD DISTRICT, FALL

sions. Fall Term 1867.

TERM 1867. To his Honor the Presiding Judge of the Court of Common Pleas and General Ses-

The Commissioners of Roads and Bridges for Edgefield District, beg leave respectfully to report, That at the termination of the late war, the Roads and Bridges were all left in a deplorable condition (many of them impassable) and the different Battalion Boards were in a disorganized state, owing to the fact that many of them were a meeting, not having a quorum present; but on Dollars would be necessary to rebuild and repair the Bridges in the District. And from the best about Forty thousand dollars. We therefore assessed a tax of Thirty-five per cent upon the amount of General Tax, to raise the required amount, but that assessment fell far short of rais-ing the amount required, which your Honor will perceive by the Report of the Treasurer of the talion Boards accompanying this Report. All of which is respectfully submitted. AB'HM. JONES, Chair. Gen'l. Board. A. JONES, Acting Secretary.
